

Infinitive Verbs

bailar

escribir cuentos

nadar

escuchar música

montar en monopatín / andar en patineta

correr

dibujar

practicar deportes

esquiar

cantar

Ver la tele

Patinar en línea

Montar en bicicleta

Usar la computadora

Tocar la guitarra

Jugar videojuegos

Hablar por teléfono

Leer revistas

Jugar al baloncesto

Trabajar

Ir a la escuela

Pasar tiempo con amigos

Usar el (teléfono) celular

GUSTAR

(Not really “to like”)

¿Qué te gusta hacer?

-What do you like to do?

GUSTAR = To be pleasing to (to like)

The verb “gustar” can NOT be translated literally to mean “to like.”

“Gustar” really means:

something/somebody is pleasing to (a person)

- I like bananas = Bananas are pleasing to me.
- Casey likes to swim = Swimming is pleasing to Casey.
- We like pizza = Pizza is pleasing to us.
- They like to watch tv = Watching tv is pleasing to them.

English vs. Spanish

In English, the person (subject) is the one doing the liking.

Ex) I like chocolate.

Ex) We like to go to the movies.

In Spanish, the object is doing the action of “pleasing” the person. The person is the receiver of the pleasure that the object gives. So essentially, the sentences are read backwards.

Ex) Chocolate pleases me.

Ex) Going to the movies pleases us.

If you want to say that you like something, say:

- (A mí) me gusta bailar
- (A mí) me gusta la pizza

Me gusta/Le gusta

NOTE: Since “le” is used for both, he and she , it is important to use a él or a ella.

If you want to say that she or he likes something, say:

- A él le gusta bailar
- A ella le gusta bailar
- A él le gusta la pizza
- A ella le gusta la pizza

No me gusta/No le gusta

If you want to say you do not like something, simply add a NO in front of “me”:

- (A mí) No me gusta bailar
- (A mí) No me gusta la pizza

If you want to say that somebody does not like something, just add no in front of “le”:

A él no le gusta bailar

A ella no le gusta la pizza

¡A trabajar!

Write eight (8) sentences using the picture prompts in the handout located in the session assignments. You can print the handout, write your sentences and then take a picture to upload or, you can write your sentences in a piece of paper, take a picture and upload the picture in the session assignments section of today's Digital Session.

